Easyscreen™

Built for Strength and Durability

The Breezway Easyscreen™ Window System is an aluminium framing option that offers external screening for Altair® Louvres. It provides users the option to include insect or security screens to the outside of their louvres which can deter bugs or intruders from entering the building.

High Performance Louvre Windows

Maximising the flow of cool breezes throughout a home is the most essential component of passive design. With the incorporation of high performance Breezway Altair Louvre Windows on opposing walls, fresh, cool air can flow in one side of the room and hot, stale air can escape through the other. The indoor temperature of the building can be lowered naturally to assist the comfort of the room, which can effectively remove the need for electric air conditioning altogether.

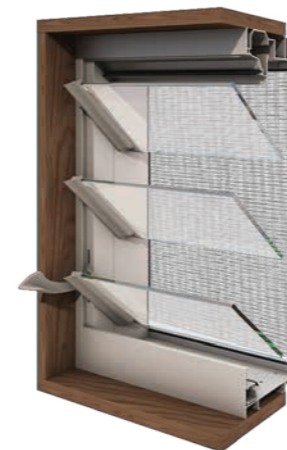

The Easyscreen Window System is suitable for external screen applications. The system complements the full range of Altair Louvre features including the Powerlouvre® System, handle options, fixed lite bays, external screening, security bars and the Stronghold® System for added strength and safety. By using aluminium or frosted glass blades you can provide privacy and the tight sealing of Altair Louvres means that conversations can remain private.

Locally manufactured, Altair Louvre Windows in the Easyscreen System are ideal for apartments, bungalows or any other project where fresh air and energy efficient control of the building environment is important.
